

The Power to Retrieve Information in an Instant

You know the information is there, but where and how do you find it?

PowerRetrieve offers you Internet Style Search for all your office documents.

PowerRetrieve is a powerful information capture, storage and retrieval system that automatically indexes the text of scanned and electronic documents, turning the entire content into searchable data.

With just a few words, dates or letter combinations you can search the full content of email message files, word processing documents, spreadsheets, PDF files, plans, drawings or photographs, even scanned documents, to locate the information you need.
